

Music Listening Study

Hello!

Professor Ogihara and I are looking for volunteers to participate in a music listening study. The experiment will be conducted entirely remotely. All you will need is a Spotify account (free or premium) and a music listening device. The experiment will involve listening to approximately 40 minutes of music and filling out a survey once per week for 6 weeks. If you are interested, please email Brian Manolovitz at bmm157@miami.edu for additional information.

Thank you,

Brian
